

The Golden Moment of VOTE

It's the realization that conservatives, radicals, and liberals share the same goals; they just have very different ideas about how to achieve them.

Issue	Shared Problem	Shared Goal
 Agriculture	Instability in farming threatens food security	A secure food system
 Product Safety	Products can cause harm	The protection that people want
 Livelihood	Poverty causes suffering and deprivation	An end to poverty
 Housing	Unaffordable housing leads to homelessness	Affordable housing for all
 Income Distribution	Income inequality can cause social conflict	Income that awards people fairly
 The Environment	Polluted air, water, and land can be dangerous	Breathable air, drinkable water, and habitable land
 Health Care	Lack of access to high-quality health care	Health and well-being for all
 Market Power	Large firms can abuse their power	The best products at reasonable prices
 Retirement Security	Seniors are economically vulnerable	Care and peace of mind for the elderly
 The Federal Budget	Irresponsible budgeting and money management	Financial freedom to invest in our future
 International Trade	When trade relationships break down, society loses out	Improved standard of living through trade
 Economic Stability	Inflation and unemployment undermine the well-being of society	Stable prices and full employment